Rockwell Automation Conflict Minerals Supply Chain Statement

Rockwell Automation is committed to high ethical standards and social responsibility. This includes supporting the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act as it relates to Conflict Minerals (Section 1502), designed to eliminate support of illegal and unethical actions in the Democratic Republic of Congo (DRC) region. While we do not purchase tin, tungsten, tantalum and gold directly, they may exist in the materials and components we buy.

Rockwell Automation's goal is to comply with the Conflict Mineral law. In support of that goal, we are also working with our suppliers to responsibly purchase the materials and components we use in our products.

We expect the same supply chain transparency and practices from our suppliers. Our suppliers are expected to investigate the source and chain of custody of conflict minerals in the products they provide to us, to disclose their information on due diligence to us on request, and to purchase minerals from responsible sources that do not contribute to human rights abuses in the DRC region. We will work with our suppliers on a case by case basis to meet these goals.

We will rely on the Conflict Minerals Reporting Template for data collection and will support the Conflict Free Sourcing Initiative.
